Dear The Federal Communications Commission,

I am writing to encourage you to reject a flat fee proposal that would change how contributions are made to the Universal Service Fund. As a small business owner, I pay this fee on my business phone line. I accept this charge and willing pay it as a cost of my business. However, I am a very low volume home phone and cellular phone user. I don't make long distance phone calls from my home phone. I use my home phone for safety and internet access purposes. Including the Universal Service Fund charge on my home phone and cellular service is grossly unfair in light of my limited usage.

Thank you for your consideration of my comments.

Sincerely,

Sandra J. Alexander
